Indiana Epsilon Reaches Milestone

UE Chapter celebrates 50th Anniversary with style

By Josh Gray

Alumni Relations Chair

Indiana Epsilon reached an impressive milestone this past fall with the 50th anniversary since obtaining charter in 1957. Brothers from all eras gathered on November 2, 2007 at the Evansville Country Club and celebrated this glorious occasion, including several Charter Members and the University of Evansville President Stephen G. Jennings (Simpson '68).

Attendees were welcomed by Jerry Purdie ('59), Master of Ceremonies, followed by a blessing by Curtis Schafer ('07) and then a bountiful feast.

When the evening's festivities drew to a close, alumni and chapter collegiate members returned to Temple IV for brotherhood and fun.

The following morning, the annual brunch ushered the days homecoming events including the parade and an alumni-vs-collegiate member flag football game.

A great participation from brothers and an amazing turnout from Alumni made the 50th anniversary celebration the best homecoming Indiana Epsilon has ever seen. We plan on building upon this year's success to make every homecoming even more exciting.

Recruitment a Success

SAE Initiates largest class in over five years

By Kevin Knust

Recruitment Chair

Over the past years the chapter has excelled in recruiting new members to join our organization. In the Fall of 2007 we again raised the bar with not only the largest number of new members, but with the "cream of the crop" of college men at the University of Evansville (see list of New Initiates on page 3).

SAE is regarded as the top fraternity on campus, whose men are True Gentlemen and popular among all. We plan to continue that reputation and elevate our status even further during this year's recruitment period. The Men of Indiana Epsilon are extremely excited about recruitment for the upcoming semester.

We have a strong tradition of recruiting quality Gentlemen to join our Brotherhood. We have some exciting events planned, and we look forward to meeting the incoming freshman class as well as returning students.

Chapter Continues to Exceed Expectations

Academic excellence, campus involvement at new heights

By Craig Miller
Eminent Archon

The members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Evansville are currently excelling in all aspects of collegiate and fraternity life. Recently, we initiated sixteen new members into our chapter. This is the largest initiating class in several years and we are very proud of that. This tremendous class of new initiates has led us to have the highest active membership among fraternities at UE.

Along with initiating such a large new class, our chapter obtained the highest GPA on campus for the third semester in a row and maintains a strong relationship with administrators and the campus community. Our members can be found all over campus, including Orientation Leaders, NCAA Division I Athletics, Admissions Ambassadors, and is represented on IFC's Executive Council. In addition, Brother Brian Naas is representing INEP well by serving as the Student Government Association President.

While our chapter has excelled here on campus, it has also shined in comparison to other ΣAE chapters nationally. Last year at Leadership School, Indiana Epsilon was represented by seven brothers, the greatest of any chapter within Province Psi. INEP was also recognized by the highest national award for Financial Management. We have had Ambassadors at the past two Leadership Schools and Brother Dexter Wolf will be representing Indiana Epsilon at this summer's 73rd Leadership School as an Ambassador, as well.

As you can tell, we have much to be excited about as collegiate brothers of INEP; however, we are constantly looking for ways to improve the chapter in every way possible.

"We give them back to you, trained college men ready to face life with minds like a diamond edge. We give them back to you, ΣAEs whose faith in the brotherhood of man could not be shaken though the earth slid from beneath them, and we give them back to you Americans with all that implies, lovers of their country, its soldiers if needs be, haters of snobbery, that filth from the sewers of kings, and before all the world, we ΣAE, have taken your boy and now we give you back - A Man."

-William C. Levere

Indiana Epsilon Selects New Advisors

Indiana Epsilon is pleased to announce the formation of a new advisory board. This board is designed to aid the chapter in important fraternal decisions.

"Indiana Epsilon Advisory Board exists to promote alumni involvement in the Fraternity, provide advice and mentoring to the Executive Council and the undergraduate Chapter, and assist the Chapter in the promotion of the ideals and principles of the Fraternity as set forth by our Founders."

The structure of the Chapter Advisory Board provides a diversity of opinions and expertise in guiding the undergraduate chapter. The board is composed of a Chapter Advisor, Faculty Advisor, Legal/Risk Management Advisor, Financial Advisor, Public Relations Advisor, Alumni Relations Advisor, and a Chapter Development Advisor. Nathan Charnes ('01) has accepted the position of Chapter Advisor and is currently helping with choosing the remainder of the Advisory Board. As undergraduate brothers, we are honored to have Charnes involved closely with the chapter again.

The previous Chapter Advisor, Dr. Anthony Beavers, has accepted the position of Faculty Advisor to replace Dr. Ron Faust. Dr. Faust served Indiana Epsilon loyally for many years and is retiring at the close of this academic year and is spending his final semester teaching at Harlaxton in Grantham, England.

Though he will be missed, the chapter wishes him luck in all of his post-retirement endeavors.

Alumni Given Unique Opportunity

By Todd Nelson
Capital Campaign Chair

Indiana Epsilon recently developed the new position of Capital Campaign Chair. The brother elected to this office, in coordination with a local alumnus, will be charged with generating new methods of gaining support from INEP alumni. Currently, several issues are being discussed about needed chapter improvements and the most effective methods of achieving our goals.

A letter describing our objectives will be sent to alumni in a few weeks. If you have any questions or ideas regarding Indiana Epsilon's Capital Campaign efforts, please contact Todd Nelson at (618)393-4535 or at tn13@evansville.edu.

The True Gentleman is the man whose conduct proceeds from good will and an acute sense of propriety, and whose self-control is equal to all emergencies; who does not make the poor man conscious of his poverty, the obscure man of his obscurity, or any man of his inferiority or deformity; who is himself humbled if necessity compels him to humble another; who does not flatter wealth, cringe before power, or boast of his own possessions or achievements; who speaks with frankness but always with sincerity and sympathy; whose deed follows his word; who thinks of the rights and feelings of others, rather than his own; and who appears well in any company, a man with whom honor is sacred and virtue safe.

Car Show Raises $2,000 for CMN

This Spring, Indiana Epsilon is holding the 4th Annual Car Show benefiting the Children's Miracle Network. Though this philanthropy is still relatively new, we were able to raise over $2,000 last year.

This year's event is planned for Saturday April 12. We are currently applying for corporate and private sponsorship in order to offset initial costs. More information regarding this philanthropy will be available in the near future.

If you have any questions or suggestions for the next Car Show, please contact Seth Spencer at ss333@evansville.edu or (812) 381-0117.

“The quality of a gentleman is measured by what he is and what he does – never by what he has. It is a code of instinctive decency, ethical integrity, self-respect, and loyalty. A knowledge of etiquette is of course essential to one’s decent behavior, just as clothing is essential to one’s decent appearance.”
